HUNDREDS TAKE PART IN SCHOOL PARENTS' NIGHT

Exhibits Filling Gymnasium Bring Compliments from Scores of Visitors

PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

All Displays to Be Kept Intact Monday Afternoon and Evening

"Parents' Night", an innovation in Circleville schools, was termed a great success by the hundreds of fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers of school children who viewed excellent exhibits in the high school gymnasium, manual arts and domestic science rooms Friday evening.

Interest proved so high that school officials declared they expect to make "Parents' Night" an annual event.

May Be Seen Monday

Frank Fischer, superintendent of schools, was so satisfied with the response that he announced the exhibit would remain intact all day Monday and Monday evening to accomodate many unable to attend Friday evening, and those who want another opportunity to study the exhibits.

Work of many of the pupils received much praise. Many exhibits were outstanding and deserving of recognition.

All grades and all classes of the high school were represented in the displays.

Nearly all the work exhibited on long tables and on the walls of the gymnasium was completed as regular assignment duties. Some of it required extra time and effort. Teachers, too, deserve credit for their efforts.

Program Presented

At the conclusion of the exhibit tour, an interesting chapel program featured by a minstrel show by Epsilon Mu Sigma students was presented, John Griffith, a senior, was in charge of the program.

The auditorium was crowded to the doors during the performance. Many long benches were added to accomodate visitors, but scores were forced to stand.

Patman's Foe

THE congressional seat held by Representative Wright Patman (D.) of Texas, the champion of the bonus, is the lure that has drawn the Rev. David M. Phillips, above, away from his Baptist pastorate in Ferarkana, Tex. The minister, who says he will support a program to stabilize the dollar among other things, has filed legal pledges necessary to oppose Patman for the Democratic nomination.

DAVEY ATTACKS BRICKER ACTION

Governor Charges Ohio's Banks "Milked"

AKRON, April 18.—(UP)—Attorney General John W. Bricker, Republican candidate for governor, was charged by Governor Davey with having "milked closed banks and building and loan companies of almost $2,000,000 of depositors' money," in a talk here last night.

The governor accused Bricker of appointing "an army of Republican political lawyers" and promised to publish a list of the lawyers and fees.

"I charge that Mr. Bricker is getting part of his campaign funds from the Republican political lawyers that he allowed to milk these banks and building and loans," Davey said.

The governor was applauded when he referred to his refusal to send national guard troops into Akron during the strike at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plant.

"Why didn't I send troops to Akron? Because they didn't belong here," he said. "If any governor had been unwise enough to send troops in when passions were running high, much blood would have been spilled; perhaps lives would have been lost."

H. C. MARTELL, 84, IS DEAD; HEADED CIRCLEVILLE FIRM

H. C. Martell, 84, former president of the Colonial Carriage Co., now out of existence, died Friday evening at his home in Troy, Mich. Mr. Martell left Circleville 25 years ago. His wife died in 1917.

Mr. Martell is survived by two daughters, Mrs. L. C. Hamnel and Mrs. L. J. Fohl of Circleville, and four sons, Harry of Denver, Colo., Leonard of Rochester, Mich., Herbert of Detroit, Mich, and Charles of Troy, Mich. A sister, Mrs. Mattie Burns of Los Angeles survives also.

The funeral will be Monday in Troy, Mich. Mrs. Hammel and Mrs. Fohl will leave Sunday to attend services.

SHERMAN LOWERY JAILED

Sherman Lowery, southend resident, was lodged in the county jail Friday afternoon by Sheriff Charles Radcliff for investigation on reports of bad checks. No charges had been filed at noon Saturday.

G-MEN CAPTURE THREE IN HAMM ABDUCTION CASE

Sensational $100,000 Kidnaping Cleared; Karpis Only Fugitive Remaining

TWO SUSPECTS DEAD

Raids in Separate Cities Staged By Crack Federal Operatives

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(UP) — Federal agents today lifted the curtain of mystery from the kidnaping three years ago of William A. Hamm, Jr., with announcement that three alleged abductors had been arrested, three are in prison, two are dead and one—the notorious Alvin Karpis—is still at large.

The $100,000 kidnaping of Hamm, wealthy St. Paul brewer, was one of the few "unsolved" cases on the books of the federal bureau of investigation, which has long waged a search for Karpis as Public Enemy No. 1.

Three Men Taken

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau, announced that federal agents, striking simultaneously at three widely-separated points, arrested:

Charles J. Fitzgerald, in Los Angeles.

Jack Pfeiffer, in St. Paul.

Edward C. Bartholmey, postmaster at Bensenville, Ill.

Hoover, calling newspapermen unexpectedly to his office for an early morning announcement of solution of the case, said that in addition to the men arrested yes-

73 CHICKENS STOLEN, SHERIFF INVESTIGATES

Two thefts, involving 73 chickens, are being investigated by the sheriff's department.

John Keller, who resides on Route 104 west of South Bloomfield, reported 60 hens stolen. Thirteen chickens were missing from the henhouse of Lester Fausnaugh who lives along the same highway, north of Robtown.

FRED BETSCH, ROSS-CO FARMER, IS DEAD

Fred Betsch, farmer residing near Chillicothe and well known in this district, died Saturday morning, Farm Bureau officials reported.

Mr. Betsch was a former member of the board of directors of the Pickaway Live Stock association, representing Ross-co. He had been ill about a month.

$148,829.46 In Sale Tax Funds Used

Receipts of Year Pass Collections By $46,729; Schools, Aged Aided

Pickaway-co received $46,729.32 more money from sales taxes in 1935 than it paid to the state, Joseph T. Tracy, state auditor, disclosed Saturday in a report of collection and disbursement of taxes.

The amount of money returned to Pickaway-co totalled $148,829.46 while $102,100.14 was paid in taxes.

Pickaway was one of 66 counties to receive more money than was collected. Twenty--two others, the larger counties, received less than the amount of stamp sales.

Schools of Pickaway-co were aided by checks amounting to $75,144.33, old age pensions totalled $44,905, amount to local governments $17,601.53, and amount used for relief bonds $11,178.60.

The Ohio collection in 1935 reached $46,370,792.14.

Of this sum, $16,846,490.51 was returned to schools, $11,230,993.67 to local governments, $4,500,000 for relief, $7,500,000 for old age pensions, $4,000,000 for county relief bonds, $2,276,500 for administration, and $16,807.96 for refunds.

COUNTIES JOIN IN POWER PLAN

Steeley, Blair Invited to Columbus Conference

Pickaway-co may join with other counties in this district to boost the rural electrification program.

Marvin Steeley, Washington-twp, head of the local program, and F. K. Blair, county agent, have been asked to attend a meeting in Columbus, Monday afternoon, on the proposal.

The meeting will be in the state Farm Bureau offices. Delegates from a number of central Ohio counties have been asked to attend.

County leaders will hold a meeting in the Farm Bureau offices Thursday at 8 p. m. Charles Lee, Columbus, district field representative of the Farm Bureau, will be in charge of the meeting.

SNOW PLOW IN USE

MALONE, N. Y., April 18.—(UP) Snow plows were returned to duty today in this northern New York region. Snow from four to 12 inches covered the Adirondacks.

Old Stone Sewer Gives Way For WPA Project

Eastend Ditch With Long History to Be Eliminated; Provided Many Expeditions for City's Youths

By Franklin Kibler

Installation of a new storm sewer system in the eastend under WPA will eliminate a landmark that has played a part in the life of every youth reared in that district.

This landmark is the old stone-box sewer which starts in the alley back of the Stevenson & Klingensmith grocery, E. Mound-st. The sewer is approximately four feet square at the opening. It gradually shrinks in size as it extends eastward and northward to empty into an open ditch back of the residence of C. G. Chalfin, E. Main-st.

Eastend youths linked this "cave" with many childhood stories. Scores of "expeditions" have been staged through the years into its darkness. Many a youth has marched to the woodshed for returning home, covered with black mud, after a "treasure hunt" in this old sewer.

Drained Lake Darling

The sewer was installed more that 75 years ago, aged residents report, and drained Lake Darling. From the opening between Mound and Franklin-sts it extends south to the sidewalk on Mound, east under the sidewalks to about the second house west of Mingo-st, then turns northward and runs under the lumber yard of Alfred Lee to the open ditch. In years past water from the sewer was used for engines in the lumber yard.

The old sewer caused wrinkles

COUNTY IS HOST TO DEMOCRATIC CONFAB TUESDAY

All Candidates for Congress Expected to Appear for Introduction

NESTER TO PRESIDE

Committees Named to Fix Plans, Arrange Details of Conference

The importance of Circleville and Pickaway-co in the fast-approaching congressional primary has been proved in the last week by a steady influx of candidates for the seat left vacant by Mell G. Underwood, who last week became the youngest federal judge in the United States.

Nearly every day at least one candidate for Mr. Underwood's place calls on county political leaders seeking support. Two candidates, Robert L. Immell of Yellowbud and Harry B. Welch of Rockbridge are claiming "native son" backing. Both were born in Pickaway-co, and both own property in the county. Others are assured votes. One candidate, who gained a number of votes in the last election, Dr. J. M. Lantz of Lancaster, may cut a swath in this county, while H. C. Claypool, brother of Garrett, Ross-co political leader, D. W. Trew of New Lexington, Barton A. Holl of Logan, and Israel Blauser of Fairfield-co claim many friends. They are all Democrats.

Mooney May Be Strong

Republicans seeking support are Dean M. Hickson and Tom P. White of Fairfield-co, and L. P. Mooney of Logan. Many observers believe White and Hickson will so

CRASH RESULTS IN $3,150 SUIT

Reading, O., Man Sues Chillicothe Resident

Theodore Hunkler, Reading, O., filed suit for $3,150 in common pleas court Saturday against Albert Schreiver, Chillicothe, for injuries resulting from of an auto collision Aug. 26, 1935 at Routes 104 and 22.

Hunkler was riding in the auto of Henry Wettengal, Newport, Ky., at the time of the collision. The action lists medical treatment at $150, and asks $3,000 damages.

FLAMES DESTROY IOWA INDUSTRIES; DAMAGE $100,000

DES MOINES, Ia., April 18—(UP) — Fire swept through a block of the Des Moines industrial district today, burning out three manufacturing establishments and damaging others at an estimated loss of $100,000.

Two huge gasoline and fuel oil storage tanks of the Cities Service Oil company were miraculously saved from the blaze. The tanks were within two inches of one building that was destroyed. Paint was burned from the tanks when the building wall collapsed. Tanks of the Phillips Petroleum Company across the street were also endangered.

Firms whose buildings were destroyed were the new Monarch Machine and Stamping Company, the Western Silo Company and the Bolzer Company manufacturing chemists.

The fire also spread to the yards of the Pittsburgh - Des Moines Steel Company, but was checked there.

INTERSECTION OPEN

Court-st was paved over the High-st intersection Friday and opened for weekend traffic.

Lamson Turns to Film Writing

DAVID LAMSON, former Stanford university press executive, against whom murder charges were dropped recently after his fourth trial for the death of his wife, is shown at work in Hollywood on the screen version of his book on prison life, written during the years he spent in the death house at San Quentin, Lamson's book, titled "We Who Are About to Die", will be adapted to the screen. Besides his film work, the Stanford graduate plans a career of writing.

Columbus Police Chief Ousts "Numbers" Racket

Dunn Takes Action After Houses "Welsh" on "310" Hit By Many As Hunch; May Move from City

COLUMBUS, April 18—(UP)—Police, who winked at the open operation of the numbers racket for seven years while 60,000 persons contributed an average of $12,000 daily, today had withdrawn their tacit approval and ordered nine "houses" to close.

Police Chief John H. Dunn's order for operations of the racket to cease followed wholesale welshing after a disastrous day recently when a "hunch" number, 310, "hit". The paper losses of the number barons for the day was estimated at between $100,000 and $250,000. However, only one "house" paid in full.

The wholesale "hit" resulted in the numbers promoters reducing the odds from 600 to 1 to sums as low as 100 to 1 on certain combinations.

May Move From City

Although Chief Dunn reported the numbers operators had taken his order "well," sources close to the racket said the answer would be to move the centers of the gambling enterprises outside the city limits.

Along the "grapevine" last night and in hundred of news stands, confectioneries, filling stations and grocery stores, all of which house numbers "writers," the word was passed to "get in under the wire."

The writers at these various points promised the betters no slips written last night would be confiscated and that payment of bets made before the promised "crack down" of the police, was guaranteed.

Chief Dunn's order threatened not only to prosecute persons writing numbers, but the wage-layer as well.

Authorities purportedly visited handbooks here following the edict and told them no action would be taken against the continuation of their accepting bets on race horses but threatened them with immediate arrest if numbers were sold in the "bookie" establishments.

Tip sheets and "dream books" with "hot" numbers remained on sale at central agencies, but operators had taken down the recently posted placards that announced the cut in the odds on "hits."

Payments here have been made combinations of figures that appear in the daily stock and bond sales totals.

Police have estimated the racket furnished employment to 3,500 Columbus residents.

ASHVILLE WOMAN WINS DECREE FOR DIVORCE

Anna Lou Cartwright, Ashville, obtained a divorce in common pleas court Friday from James Bruce Cartwright for gross neglect of duty. She was granted the custody of a child, Jimmie Darlene Cartwright.

Mr. Cartwright was ordered by Judge Joseph Adkins to pay $5 a week for the support of the child. He was directed to pay the same amount each week for the support of Mrs. Cartwright so long as she does not remarry. Mr. Cartwright also is to pay $85 due under a former court order.

GAMING DEVICE TEST CASE NEAR

Chillicothe Man Bound to Grand Jury By Mayor Ford

CHILLICOTHE, April 18 — A test case of Mayor James E. Ford's recent decree ousting all gaming devices loomed today as Frank J. Hunn, restaurant operator, was bound to the grand jury under $600 bond for exhibiting a 5-cent slot machine and a 5-cent pinball machine in his store.

Hunn pleaded not guilty when given a preliminary hearing in Mayor Ford's court.

The mayor ordered both machines locked up in his private vault pending the outcome of the case. Contents of the devices will be placed in the police pension fund, the official declared. Mr. Hunn said the machines were merely being stored in the back room and had been played only for fun by a few friends.

Prosecutor Lester Reid said the grand jury will not be called in special session but will study the charges at its next regular meeting.

WILLIAM C. RECOB DIES AT $57 IN COLUMBUS HOME

A good attendance is expected at the meeting which starts at 6:30 o'clock in Hanley's tearoom.

MUSSOLINI SEES ITALY RESTORED TO GREAT POWER

Rome Reports Emperor's Son Ready to Become Head of Puppet State

ABDICATION RUMORED

Graziani Engaged in Major Battle on Addis-Ababa Railroad Drive

GENEVA, April 18.—(UP)—Emperor Haile Selassie telegraphed personally to the League of Nations today, again appealing for aid in his country's extremity.

The emperor's [illegible] would serve to [illegible] measurably Italian [illegible]tions that he has agreed to abdicate.

ROME, April 18—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini [illegible] awaited confidently today [illegible] expects to be the greatest [illegible] of his dramatic career.

He visualized the collapse of Ethiopia, the abdication of Emperor Haile Selassie, the virtual annexation of a country [illegible] times larger than [illegible] humiliation of Great Britain [illegible] the disastrous defeat of [illegible] of Nations he has always [illegible].

It was understood that he had sent Marshal Pietro [illegible], commander-in-chief in [illegible] Africa, detailed instructions on the terms for an armistice and the abdication of the emperor.

Crown Prince Ready

Unofficial but reliable sources said that he had received assurances that the Ethiopian crown prince, Asfa Wosen, was ready to negotiate peace unconditionally and to assume the nominal sovereignty of the country as a puppet emperor under Italian domination.

It was even insisted that the emperor himself was ready to abdicate in Wossn's favor, and had communicated this offer to Italian representatives.

But regardless of immediate developments, Mussolini saw himself today as in the final stage of winning a victory greater than even he had dreamed.

At a cost of some $553,000,000, according to conservative estimate, in Italian money and some thousands of Italian lives, he saw Italy, emerging not only as a major colonial power but as a greater force in Europe than it ever had been.

Austria's Protector

He was beginning already, it was understood, to lay his plans for Europe, to restore Italy's position as the protector of Austria and to take his full place as a chieftain in discussions for a general European scheme of political consolidation.

Furthermore, he foresaw the rise of Italy as the great Mediterranean power—in a vital section of the British line of communication to the near East, India and Australia.

The collapse of the League of Nations effort to arrange an armistice on its own terms coincided yesterday with the end of the fifth month of league penalties against Italy.

ROME, April 18—(UP)—Gen. Rodolfo Graziani's army on the southern Ethiopian front is locked in a major battle with Ethiopians opposing an Italian drive toward the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad.

[illegible] TO ADD [illegible]0 TO LIST PENSIONERS

[illegible] Social Security Act to [illegible] Change; Provisions [illegible] Are Changed

COLUMBUS, April 18.—(UP)—[illegible]0,000 more recipients will [illegible] added to Ohio's old age pension [illegible] because of the federal social security act, H. J. Berrodin, chief of the state division of aid for the [illegible] predicted today.

This will bring the state's total of pensioners to 110,000, Berrodin said, with 90,000 already receiving such monthly state aid.

Charles N. Luthey, of Cleveland, has been appointed to the division's staff to assist Berrodin in administering the pension program. Luthey's appointment, effective at once, will provide an annual salary of $4200.

Ohio Laws Altered

Alterations made in Ohio's pension laws by the general assembly has improved some of the less desirable features of the original provisions, Berrodin said. Changes included:

1—Maximum award raised from [illegible] to $30 a month.

2—Transfer of real estate to the state made optional.

3—Establishment of a five per cent income charge on all property NOT transferred to the state.

4—All life insurance in excess of $250 required to be transferred.

5—Required years of residence within the state reduced from 15 to five year, continuous residence for the year immediately preceding application being required to qualify for assistance.

6—Elimination of the 15 year citizenship requirement. Citizenship still a requisite but NO time limit is set.

Ohio is now spending about $1,352,000 a month on pensions, exclusive of administration costs, Berrodin said.

Under the new program and with the anticipated increase in the number of recipients, the monthly cost will be $1,653,000, of which the state will pay half and the federal government the other half, he said.

Depend on Needs

Whether present recipients will obtain increased pensions depends entirely upon their needs. All awards are established through the use of a budget system and will NOT be changed merely because more funds are available, the division chief said.

In New York, he pointed out, only 55,000 persons are receiving pensions, although the general average for pensions paid is only $23.

Tall Tales

A group of local mechanics who have a partnership cabin on Darby creek tell the following story, and from the number of witnesses it must be true.

A young man was hunting near their cabin. He was using old shells loaded with black powder that laid a smoke screen with every shot.

As they were watching him hunt, a bunny jumped out. He fired. The hunter immediately started through the smoke and ran full steam ahead into a big sycamore tree. The gun flew through the air in one direction and the nimrod's hat the other. The rabbit escaped unhurt and the youth was a much wiser nimrod after recovering from severe bruises.

ANTS CAUSE TROUBLE

COALINGA, Cal., April 18 — (UP)—A. R. Browen had ants. He traced them to a sandhill near his home, poured gasoline along their trail and lighted it. Browen, personally, was relieved of the pests today, but they were still around to annoy the carpenters rebuilding his home.

IN MEMORIAN

Again the grim reaper has reminded us of the certainty of death and never ending eternity. This time the Lord has chosen and taken from us a most loved member of our family, Newton Kerns. He was the son of Henry and Julia Ann Kerns. He was born in Champaign County, Illinois, Sept. 28, 1873 and was called to another life April 7, 1936, aged 62 years 6 months and 9 days.

On June 6, 1901 he was united in marriage to Minnie Alice Pontious Three children came to bless this union all of whom with his wife survive. They are Dr. Vermont Kerns of Circleville; Mrs. Renick Valentine of near Thatcher and Dorothy at home. Also two grandchildren.

He was the fourth of a family of twelve children four brothers with his parents have preceeded him in death.

He was converted and taken into the Morris U. B. Church under the Pastorship of Rev. George Weir. He remained a member till death.

He was reared and spent most of his early life in Ross County residing in or near Hallsville. In 1918 he moved to Saltcreek Township, Pickaway County where he lived until death.

He was a devoted husband and father, good neighbor and made friends with all who came in contact with him. He loved his children dearly and always found pleasure among the young folks. His grandchildren, and all little children as well, were a delight to him. He will be sadly missed by all who knew him.

He was always interested in the welfare of those around him and was always ready to do kind deeds for someone. The community as well as the family mourn the loss of a loving friend and father.

Surviving besides his wife and children are four brothers and three sisters; Austin of Saltcreek Township; Mary Ann Speakman of Williamsport, Polly Chester of Walnut Valley; Wesley and Albert of Kingston; Daniel of Westminister, and Martha Norman of Amanda, also a host of other relatives and friends.

Sunset and evening star and one clear call for me
And may there be no moaning of the bar when I put out to sea,
For though from out the bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of those who helped in any way to make the hours of breavment brigher. To those who gave flowers, the singers, the undertaker and the ministers for their consoling words.

—Mrs. Newton Kerns and family

The leading roles, in the first production of the play on Broadway, were taken by Eva La Gallienne, Basil Rathbone, Alison Skipworth and Phillip Merivale.

Two rehearsals were held this week by Mr. Bowen who was assisted by Evelyn Wolfe.

"The Swan" which is the most highly advanced play that has ever been presented in Circleville high school was first produced at the Detroit Opera House, Detroit, Michigan. Its opening in New York at the Port Theatre was an instantanious success and it ran through the season.

"The Swan" will be presented on Wednesday and Friday, May 20 and 22.

The parts of Arsene and George, who are boys of twelve or fourteen years of age are to be taken by Marvene Wallace and Dorothy Beaty.

ESSAY CONTEST TO BE SPONSORED FOR PUPILS

Along with the many essay contests sponsored by various people and organizations comes another contest of special merit, which is sponsored by the Propeller club of Cleveland and the Cleveland Press club on the subject, "The Relationship Between the American Merchant Marine and Manufacturing, Agriculture and Labor."

The fifteen National Contest prize winner's will receive as their awards ocean trips to European and South American prizes of trips on huge freighters to the head of the Great Lakes and the return.

Many libraries have agreed to set out special tables of neccessary reference books and literature to help the contestants in this a 750 word essay.

The contests has been indorsed by the Cleveland Public School system and several other prominent educators.

The contest imposes no obligations and the only purpose for it is to acquaint the public, as much as possible, with the importance of the American Merchant Marine.

All essays must be in the hands of the judges in Cleveland by April 27.

Several students of Circleville schools have already ranked high in some outstanding contests and should make some excellent contributions to this one.

HONORARY ENGLISH CLUB TO TOUR COLUMBUS

Members of the E. M. S., Quill and Scroll will conduct their annual educational tour of Columbus, Thursday, April 23.

The pupils will inspect several places of interest in that city.

Among the places to be visited by the group are the Moores and Ross Ice Cream Co., Ohio State Institute for the Deaf, Radio Station WBNS and David Davies Packing Co.

A bus will be chartered by the group for the tour.

ORCHESTRA ON WBNS

The High School orchestra, under the leadership of C. F. Zaenglein played this afternoon over radio station WBNS.

The program was sponsored by the Central Ohio Music Supervisors club.

The program featured instrumental and choral groups of the various high schools.

The orchestra played from 1:30 to 2:00 p. m.

The program with "Red and Black" as a theme song also included "March of the Mighty", "Sorority Informal", "A Beautiful Lady in Blue" "Southern Minatures", "Lights Out," "Venitian Carnival," and Poet and Peasant."

The orchestra will conclude its activities for the year by playing for the Senior class play.

STUDENT WORK IS SHOWN TO PARENTS FRIDAY EVE.

A large crowd of parents and citizens of Circleville attended Parent's Night Friday evening in the high school building proving the event a great success.

The exhibit included the work of all city schools which was made during class room periods. All twelve grades of the Circleville school system were represented in the event.

Among the articles on display were neat and attractive notebooks and other semester projects. Many freehand drawing were were shown in the display. Projects of Manual Training and Home Economics classes were on display in these respective departments in the building.

After the exhibitions had been viewed by all persons an assembly program was presented in the auditorium. Parts of the best programs presented during assemblies this year, and also grade school talent was viewed by the spectators.

This program was opened and introduced by that most genial master of ceremonies John Griffith.

Included on the program were several songs by the Boys' Glee Club and a piano duet by Regina Thornton and Eleanor McDill. Tap dance by Cecilia Coleman and Betty Clifton were greatly applauded by the audience. Marvin and Meredith Richards played several selections on their harmoicas and Gail Dauenhauer presented a shadowgraph on the program.

The assembly was concluded by a Dixieland Minstrel given by the Epsilon Mu Sigma.

Dick Plum rendered several piano selections.

The purpose of the event was to give the parents an idea of the type of work being accomplished in the class rooms.

The exhibit was sponsored by the Circleville Teachers' Association.

MR. GORDON DONATES LOT FOR MAY DAY

The problem of where to hold the May Day festival has been solved. Ben Gordon, the owner of the lot directly across from the Corwin Srteet school building, has kindly offered the use of his ground for this gala event.

It was planned ,at first, to hold it on the athletic field as was done last year, but since the field has just been sown with grass seed, it could not be used for the affair.

Much space is needed as there will have to be room enough to effectively set off three May poles, the May Queen, and her court.

STOOGES NET PROFIT AT THEIR ANNUAL BALL

A huge crowd of more than one hundred and fifteen couples enjoyed the second annual Stooge dance held at the Circleville Athletic club Tuesday evening.

This dance was sponsored by the Stooge club in order to secure money to help erect bleachers for the athletic field.

The club is now ready to donate about fifty dollars to the athletic association treasury.

The same high quality music was furnished by Carl Hunn and his band, as he gave at his first local appearance when he appeared at the Girl Reserve dance.

The crowd was comprised of students, townspeople and alumni of the high school.

MANY VISITORS NOTED DURING THE PAST WEEK

During the Easter vacation Circleville high school was visited by some of its alumni and also some students from other schools.

Among those visiting were Horace Gilmore; who is attending the University of Michigan; Bernice Liston, who is a Freshman at Ohio State university; Charles Rader, a student at Bradley Polytechnic Institute; Janet McKinnon and Patty McKinnon, students of Athens high school.

HILAIRE HAECKER TALKS AT THE ROTARY CLUB

At their regular meeting held Thursday noon at the American Hotel Coffee shop the Rotary club had as their guest speaker Hilaire Haecker, ninth senior boy to address the club on, "What Rotary Means to Me."

Haecker chose to speak to the club on three points of much interest to them. He first spoke of their civic pride, complimenting the organization on it's cooperation in all civic projects.

Hilaire then told them of the feeling of informality and goodwill which exsists in the club, "this," said he, "tends to make strangers feel at home."

Lastly, at the piano, Haecker illustrated the benefits of their club singing in a very interesting manner.

Already John Griffith, Dick Plum, Richard Harman, George Rader, James Henderson, Fred Grant, John Jenkins and Willard Friley have addressed the club.

Burns Jones, who will attend the meetings for the next three weeks, will be the last member of the Senior class to speak to the club.

The boys attend the meetings with Mr. Fred Watts, high school member of the Rotary club.

DEBATE CLUB CHOOSES TOPIC FOR ASSEMBLY

"Capital Punishment Should Be Abolished," was the subject chosen for a future debate by members of the Debate club at a meeting held on Wednesday afternoon.

The next club meeting will be held at the High school, Tuesday evening at 7:30.

At this meeting John Rankin, vice-president of the club, will report on "Parlimentary Procedure."

At the Tuesday meeting, the members of the organization will discuss various methods of outlining debate speeches.

An official name will be selected for the Club at the next meeting.

Hilaire Haecker and George Rader, honorary members of the club, will present a short comedy skit as the concluding part of the program.

The club is planning to present a debate in assembly before the school year is finished.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLASSES HOLD PARTY CONVENTION

One of the most unique and novel innovations into the social Civis classes was introduced this week when they held reproductions of National Party conventions.

The convention was combined with both Democratic and Republican parties being held at the same time. students were appointed to represent the candidates for President of the United States.

Landon, Borah, and Knox comprised those on the Republican party and Franklin D. Roosevelt and Al Smith were competing for the Democratic nomination.

Pauline Reed, Rosemary Neuding, and Jessie Dresbach represented Roosevelt while Junior Scott, Faye Elliot, and George Curtain were the spokesmen for Al Smith.

The Republican party was represented by Hubert Puckett, Richard Weldon, and Arthur Thorne speaking in favor of Landon; while Don Henry, Mary Maxey, and Willard Hosler defended Borah; with Colonel Frank Knox being represented by Jack E. Brown, Jack Brown, and Virginia Phillips.

In a vote of the social civics classes, before and after the speeches, President Roosevelt led, with Governor Landon of Kansas taking second place.

BAKE SALE PLANNED

The Junior Girl Reserves are planning a bake sale to be held at Funk's I. G. A. next Saturday. The money is to go toward the next Mother and Daughter banquet held annually by this organization.

700 DELEGATES TO WORLD METHODIST CONFER

100 Visitors Are Foreign; All to Vote

Headdress, Clothes of India and China to Add to Columbus Convention

"All roads lead to Columbus' in May, when the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church meets for three weeks in quadrennial session in the aduditorium. These roads have their beginnings not only in every community in Ohio and in every commonwealth of the United States, but in the humble villages and thronging cities of India, China, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Malaysia, Central Europe, Africa and Latin-America.

For more than 100 of the 700 delegates to the General Conference will be from foreign countries—from countries to which the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States has been sending missionaries during the past century. Methodism is the only large Protestant communion that is thus worldwide in its representation.

All To Have Votes

Seated among the American delegates, and with equal voice and vote with them, will be men and women of the black, the brown, and the yellow races—men and women whose parents or grandparents were Mohammedans, Hindus, Buddhists, Confucianists Shintoist or even pagans. They will represent the 54,000 Methodists in Africa, the 71,000 in China; the 342,000 of India and Burma; the 86,000 of the Philippines and Malaysia; 16,000 in Latin-America; 102,000 in Central Europe and Scandinavia; and the newly independent Methodist churches of Mexico, Japan and Korea.

On the platform of the General Conference there will be seated Bishop Jashwant Rao Chitambar, the first Indian to be elected a bishop of Methodism, and Bishop Juan E. Gattinoni—born in Italy and emigrating to Chile early in life—the first South American elected a bishop of the Church. Seated among the lay delegates will be the wives of these two bishops.

China will have in its delegation such notable church leaders as the Rev. Hiram H. Ts'ui, executive secretary of the Church of Christ in China Dr. James L. Ding, president of the famous Anglo-Chinese College in Foochow; Miss Ruby Sia, superintendent of primary schools in Foochow Conference; Principal F. S. Kao of Peking Academy; and Dr. I. H. Liu, director of religious education in North China. Other noteable delegates come from India, Chile, Argentina, Sweden and Germany.

Not only will the headdress and garbs of India and China lend color to the General Conference, but there will also be exhibits of handicrafts, of arts, of religious work throughout the Auditorium. "The World comes to Columbus" is one of the bywords of the Conference.

COLUMBUS PRESBYTERY TO MEET NEXT WEEK

Fraternities Warned of Reds

SAN FRANCISCO—Greek letter fraternities have become a newly suspected possibility of undermining American university life. The local Interfraternity Conference has warned all fraternity presidents to guard against communists attempting to entrench themselves in local fraternities.

Sunday Funerals Banned

SIDNEY, O.—The Shelby County Ministerial association has asked cooperation against Sunday burials. Members said they believed both funeral directors and cemetery workers were entitled to a Sunday rest.

War debts are responsible for conditions in Europe, according to a foreign observer. We always suspected that the blame ultimately would be placed at the doorstep of Uncle Sam.

God the Forgiving Father — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Luke 15:1-32

To teach us how God forgives sinners Jesus told the story of a shepherd who had one sheep lost from his flock of a hundred. He sought it until he found it, then carried it home with rejoicing.

He told another story of a boy who demanded of his father his share of property and went away into a far country to spend it wantonly. Afterwards he became destitute, but no one helped him.

He became servant to a man who made him tend hogs. He was often so hungry he felt like eating the husks the hogs ate. His new freedom was worse than obeying a loving father.

So he returned to his father not with any selfish "Give Me", but humbly [illegible] "Make me as one of thy servants." [illegible] father met him with loving forgiveness.

GOLDEN TEXT—Psalm 103:13.

CHURCH BRIEFS

At morning services at the Methodist church the choir will sing "Mighty Victim from the Sky" by Matthews. The sermon subject will be "Possessions which are Liabilities."

The Epworth League plans an interesting meeting for 6:30 p. m. with Ned Harden leading the discussion.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 will be mid-week service and the choir will practice Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Sunday morning Rev. E. Radebaugh will preach on "Abraham Offering Isaac—Full Surrender" at Calvary Evangelical church and for the evening service he has chosen as his sermon subject, "A Preacher in a Submarine."

The E. L. C. E. will have a business and social meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. will be a prayer meeting and Friday at 7:30 choir practice.

The Pickaway-co Young People will have a Holiness rally at the U. B. church in East Ringgold Sunday at 2 p. m. Rev. Charles Essick, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, will be the speaker. There will be music. All young people from the various churches in the county are welcome.

"The Dire Results of Doubt" and "The Missing Disciple" will be the sermon subjects of the morning and evening services, respectively, at Trinity Lutheran church, Sunday.

Meetings scheduled for the week included Junior choir rehearsal, Thursday 7 p. m.; Teachers' meeting, Friday 7 p. m.; Senior choir practice, Friday 7:30 p. m.; Junior Mission band, Saturday 2:30 p. m.

Sermon subjects for Sunday morning and evening services, respectively, at the United Brethren church will be "The Hand of Jesus" and "Discovering the Living Christ."

There will be prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. The last chapter of "Biblical Catechism" will be used. On following Wednesday nights the "Duties of Church Members" as stated in the Book of Discipline will be discussed. The church choir will meet following the prayer service.

Sunday from 4:45 to 5 p. m. the Men's Glee club of Otterbein college will broadcast from WLW, Cincinnati.

Rev. Emil S. Toensmeier of the Presbyterian church has chosen "The Challenge of the Risen Life" as his sermon subject for Sunday. Music will include "The Pilgrim's Chorus", prelude; solo, "Gratitude" by Franklin Price, and offertory, "Song of Hope" by Batiste.

God, the Forgiving Father

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for April 19, is Luke 15:1-32, especially 11-24, the Golden Text being Psalm 103:13, "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him.")

"NOW ALL THE publicans and sinners were drawing near unto Jesus to hear him." This should have the occasion for great joy on the part of all truly religious folk. But instead we read that "both the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners and eateth with them." Here are the "elder brothers" who are angry at the Father's reception of the returning prodigals and refuse to come in or join in the joy of heaven and earth over the repentance and forgiveness of sinners.

The Lost Sheep and Coin

To rebuke these self-righteous unloving murmurers Jesus told the story of the lost sheep, the lost coin and the lost son. "What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness and go after that which is lost, until he find it." Even if it be but a sheep that is lost the shepherd heart rests not until the lost is found. No matter how long it takes, nor what effort it requires the one per cent that is lost elicits one hundred per cent of the shepherd's interest and love. The only limit he sets is "until he find it." "And when he hath found it he layeth it on his shoulders rejoicing." There is no scouring or murmuring for its getting lost, only joy. That is the way it is in heaven when sinners repent. These murmuring enemies of Jesus were out of tune with heaven. This was Jesus' point in the story of the lost sheep and the lost coin.

The Lost Son

The picture he was painting of the self-righteous Pharisees and scribes came out in sharpest relief in his parable of the Prodigal Son and the elder brother. "A certain man had two sons; and the younger of them said to his father, father, give me the portion of the substance that falleth to me." Here is the sin of self-seeking that is the root of most human [illegible] is the "Give me" spirit of [illegible] ness. There was no use to [illegible] to love of father or home. [illegible] stood for restraints to [illegible] and must be cast aside. [illegible] shortly, in that far country [illegible] agined freedom, the [illegible] learned that living as one [illegible] soon enslaves him to his [illegible] that sin's liberties are [illegible] galling slavery than [illegible] straints. "He came to himself [illegible] said, How many hired [illegible] my father's have bread [illegible] and to spare, and I perish [illegible] hunger! I will arise and [illegible] father, and will say [illegible] Father, I have [illegible] heaven and in thy sight [illegible] more worthy to be called [illegible] make me as one of [illegible] servants."

"Give, [illegible]

Here was a [illegible] a new creature. [illegible] "Give me" has changed [illegible] surrendered "Make [illegible] father recognized it [illegible] the dead: "This, my son [illegible] and is alive again." "And [illegible] gan to be merry" [illegible] joicing the elder brother [illegible] to have any part. [illegible] and would not go in." [illegible] eous, unloving, he [illegible] against his father and brother [illegible] as the Pharisees and scribes [illegible] doing against Christ [illegible] man receiveth sinners and [illegible] with them."

Psalm 103:13—"Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him."

WHAT MAKES TORNADOES?

IT MUST be because nobody can do anything about them that tornadoes are generally viewed as mysterious affairs. Actually, there is no great mystery about them in the minds of meterologists, those agents of the federal government scattered over the continent reading the thermometer, the barometer, the wind indicator and attempting within certain limitations to forecast the weather.

These men will tell you a tornado is a natural phenomenon, just as natural as the fairly regular arrival of warm weather in the spring and cold weather in the fall. They will tell you it is surprising there are not more destructive tornadoes because conditions both in the spring and in the autumn are inviting. They will also tell you that the locale of tornadoes depends entirely upon forces over which man has no control.

This year they may be in the extreme southeast. Next year they may be in the plains area, or they may split the difference and trail through the Mississippi river region. It all depends upon the area over which the last blasts of winter meet the forerunner of summer. All through the winter "fronts" of cold air have been driving down from the north. But as winter moves out, summer, which has been girding itself in equatorial regions, begins sending north the feelers of warm air. Some where the cold air and the warm air meet. Cold air is heavy, but because of the force behind the drive in the early spring it frequently overrides the currents of warm air. Halted, the warm air seeks to rise and the cold air to descend.

Conflicting currents of vertically moving air set up disturbances which create tornadoes—whirlpools in the air — and man, with his pun shelters, suffers.

BANK RESERVES MAY BE DOUBLED

WASHINGTON — Federal Reserve Board insiders predict an early increase in bank reserve requirements from 25 to 50 per cent. They hint that the move will be made as a warning against a runaway stock market. . . The next big date on the Labor calendar is May 2, when the Executive Council of the A. F. of L. convenes in Washington to decide whether to talk back to John L. Lewis and his militant industrial unionists or wait for a showdown at the national convention in the Fall . . . . Federal Housing Administrator Stewart McDonald was the possessor of a prized London - made top hat. When he wore it to a Washington reception for the first time in several years, someone filched it out of the check-room . . . . The Securities-Exchange Commission recently denied an aviation firm the right to sell stock. It had built but one plane in four years. The SEC reported: "On an attempt to fly the ship, it was brought safely to the ground after rising eight feet on a 'flight' of about 150 feet."

BIG PROBLEM

Lieutenants of Governor Alf Landon say their biggest problem is to restrain big business leaders from shouting their support from the house tops. The Landonites feel that exultant right-wing backing would be a serious campaign handicap. This explains their ill-disguise pleasure at reading recent news stories that Hoover was miffed with the Kansas Governor . . . A significant indication of strained relations among the nine members of the Supreme Court is the fifteen split decisions this term, nine of them by a 6 to 3 count. For one term, this is an unprecedented number of dissents . . . . The National Resources Board, headed by Frederic A. Delano, uncle of President Roosevelt, has drafted Clarence Dykstra, Cincinnati City Manager, to direct its survey of American municipalities . . . . The annual report of the Securities-Exchange Commission is proving the best seller among government publications. Already it has run through several editions, and sales are still mounting . . . . The WPA is investigating reports that foreign-born work-relief recipients are sending a portion of their relief pay to relatives abroad. In one case a relief worker was discovered sending half of his check to Italy.

THE CAMDEN RUBY MURDER

by ADAM BLISS

COPYRIGHT—RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

READ THIS FIRST:

Detective Keyes and Gary Maughan are attempting to unravel the mysterious murder of Margalo Younger, an actress and old friend of Maughan. She was killed with a needle-like instrument as she and Maughan sat in the home of Dow Van Every, a collector of rare jewels, whom she had met through his friend, Maughan, listening to his gruesome history of the famous Camden ruby. At the time she was wearing the ruby against the wishes of Van Every who described it as a "murder stone". Among those questioned by the detective were Maughan, himself; Van Every; his young niece, Joyce, who lives with him; her fiance, Allan Foster, who at one time was in love with the dead actress, and Joyce's companion, Laura Randall. Another suspect is Roy Barrimore, close friend of the actress, who shot himself shortly after her death. Van Every tells Maughan how he bought the ruby from two nuns. Joyce confides to Maughan that she has secured a job in a department store against her uncle's wishes. The detective and Maughan start for the home of a Mrs. Bryce, an intimate friend of Van Every. Keyes and Maughan learn from Mrs. Peoples, Margalo's maid, that the actress recently had given a check for $7,000 to a friend, Manuel Gonzales. Margalo's maid brings a ruby, found in one of the galoshes of her dead mistress, to the detective. It is an exact duplicate of Van Every's. (NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

He examined the stone methodically.

CHAPTER 24

"CAN YOU remember what Miss Younger did other days than Monday?" Keyes asked Mrs. Peoples. There was a hint of sarcasm in his voice, and Mrs Peoples felt it.

"I'm only telling you what she did Monday week because I thought you would like to know. In the taxi coming over I thought back, and remembered as much as I could I thought you would want to know——"

"I do, and thank you."

"It's kind of easy remembering Mondays—on account of the beauty shop. I had to be careful that she doesn't forget that, so I always reminded her Monday when she waked up."

"Would you remember if anyone strange had called that day?"

"Well, I don't think that I would. There's always a lot of people visiting her. If it's anyone out of the ordinary I might, but as I remember no one came Monday afternoon. Her friends knew where she was, so usually didn't call. Oh, I don't mean to say there weren't calls—there were, but nothing suspicious."

"What time was she due at this beauty shop?"

"One-thirty."

"And what time did she usually leave?"

"Near five."

Keyes coughed. "Hardly time to run to the bank and draw out her cash before she went to the shop and certainly no time to get it afterwards, as the banks would be closed."

"I never thought of that!" Mrs. Peoples exclaimed.

"What time did she leave to meet Gonzales?"

"About 12."

"Where were they eating?"

"I'm not sure. She didn't say. She liked breakfast out, though, and seldom had it home. Said it woke her up to get out. She liked to sleep late."

"What time did you awaken her in the morning?"

"Eleven."

Keyes thanked her again, and she left, looking rather longingly at the ruby as she went. I accompanied her to the elevator, and tried to make up for Keyes' brusque manner in dismissing her. Her find was invaluable, I thought, and she certainly should be given credit for it.

When I returned to the captain, he was looking dully at the ruby, which he had put on the white spread of the bed. Perhaps it was nerves, perhaps imagination, but the ruby didn't seem to sparkle as Van Every's had. To me, it only glowed feebly. I handled it again, but could learn nothing from it. It looked like the other, yet there was a subtle difference.

"We've got to go to Van Every, Keyes. He'll know."

He nodded and reached for his overcoat. "Damn ruby again, but I'm beginning to see why Margalo Younger made the appointment with Joyce Van Every for tea; why she was so interested in the Camden ruby; why she was so eager to talk to Van Every. She evidently had bought the Camden ruby, too, and was anxious to see whether hers was a forgery."

"Van Every paid $70,000, Keyes. Margalo, $8,000. No doubt in my mind but that hers is a fake."

"Women and their bargains!" he sighed, and stepped into the taxi. Van Every's house was lighted brightly, and when we entered the front door, McManus met us.

"Everything O. K., chief." He led us into the living room where Van Every was reading. He greeted us kindly and ordered Soon to get some glasses for us. Pulling a silver flask from his pocket, he filled the glasses generously.

"Chase you out of your library?" Keyes asked.

"No, but I've no heart to stay there. I'm renting the house as soon as I can find a tenant."

Keyes finished his drink before he mentioned our errand. "Get me your ruby, will you, Van Every? I've something here, rather interesting to show you, but I must see your ruby first."

My friend seemed surprised as he called Soon. The Chinese was close by, and his master addressed him in a language I could not understand. Soon vanished and reappeared in perhaps 10 minutes with the box which I knew contained the ruby. Van Every opened it, took the chain in his hand and held it up to the light.

Keyes dug in his pocket and brought out Margalo's ruby. I heard Van Every gasp as he leaned forward, then he swallowed and sat back weakly.

"Heavens, what a start you gave me! Where'd you get it?"

The officer explained as briefly as he could. When he had finished, Van Every arose. "Come up to my laboratory. I'll examine the stone. I don't think it's genuine, but we'll see."

I had not particularly noticed the door leading into the laboratory when Van Every and I sat in his bedroom the night Margalo was murdered. I imagined the door led to a clothes closet. Now he opened it, and we found ourselves in a small room, no more than six by eight. Possibly at one time it had been a closet. The one window looked out on the garden. A long narrow table, holding three powerful microscopes, faced this. On the velvet cover near one of the instruments was a small box containing other paraphernalia for examining jewels.

"My workshop," Van Every said simply. "Rather my playshop. Now let me have the ruby."

He went about examining the stone methodically. I had watched him before with the Khonivar diamond at the Villa Maurin, with a powerful enlarging lens and some instruments which were unknown to me then. He had no laboratory there.

Keyes and I waited silently for some 15 minutes, while Van Every went over every inch of the stone, measuring it, then tabulating the measurements.

At his request when he had finished, we both looked through a lens at the stone. It was clear except for a tiny bubble at the center. Examining his stone immediately afterwards, we saw the difference readily. The ruby, Van Every's ruby was absolutely clear, and there was a shade of variation in the color.

"A fake, of course. I knew that when I looked at it downstairs. But I wanted to see how it was made." Van Every was saying, in his quiet, well-modulated voice. "But it's a clever fake. You had me guessing for a second downstairs. Me paying $70,000 for a ruby, only to find there was another one in existence. Yes, Captain Keyes, Miss Younger's ruby is a fake, but a good one. A good jeweler could have told her that after a brief examination. She evidently did not take it to a jeweler. The way women buy things!" he smiled. "But, here's the point, Captain Keyes. The man who made the copy did it from the ruby itself. The measurements are almost exact except that the cutting is far superior on the copy than on the original. Far better, which leads me to believe the copy is new—that is, within the last 50 years. Perhaps older than that. The chain is almost an exact copy, except for the gold used. If you wish, you can take both of them to a competent jeweler, who will corroborate my statement."

"No need of that, Van Every. I have already found out that you're an expert in your field."

Smiling slightly, Van Every told us as simply as he could how the imitation ruby had been made, of what elements it was composed.

"Is a copy like, this valuable?" Keyes asked.

"I should say it would be worth around $500. Perhaps more. I don't deal in synthetic jewels, so can't give you the exact value. If Miss Younger paid any more than $500 for it, I personally would say she had been robbed. You understand that the copy is a fine one; no one but an expert could tell the difference. The ruby Miss Younger bought took some time to make—it was not an easy job. But there is no sale for a copy of a ruby as large as the Camden, so I can see no object in doing all the work."

"The copy, then, was made by an expert?"

"Undoubtedly. And the person who did it compared it facet by facet with the real thing. His tools, though, were not so crude as the ones which cut the Camden. Gentlemen, if I were going to copy a stone, at least a stone cut as long ago as the Camden. I would first study the tools of the period, make them, and then go to work. The person who copied the Camden ruby evidently did not think of that, or did not have the time."

"Do you think it was made abroad or here?"

"I can't tell." Van Every was studying the two jewels again, comparing them closely.

"Has it occurred to you, Keyes," I asked, "that the person who sold Margalo Younger this jewel might want it back—in view of what has happened?"

"It had not, until you mentioned it."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. A. SHEPHARD, Famous Bridge Teacher

MASTERING BRIDGE (59)

NO PLAYER has mastered bridge unless he can readily determine the precise capabilities of each hand, offensively, defensively and in support of partner. Yesterday's hand is repeated below, so that we may continue the search for a way to go game at spades, against an opening lead of the J of spades, and presuming opponents offer the best subsequent defense.

♠ A Q 10 8 7
♥ K
♦ K Q 8 6 3
♣ A 6

♠ 9 4 3
♥ Q 10 9 8 4
♣ K 8 5 3

♠ K 5 2
♥ J 7 6 2
♦ J 4
♣ Q J 10 7

Provided East does not discard a heart on the third round of spades, taking three rounds of trumps, to pull West's last spade, will not yield game, by either of the two methods yet tried. The first method tried was to establish the diamonds. This method caused North to lose 1 heart trick and 3 diamond tricks. The second method tried was to establish dummy's clubs, to enable North to discard two diamonds on dummy's clubs. This method permitted East to three times lead hearts, resulting in either 1 heart trick, 2 diamond tricks and a club trick going to defenders, or giving them 2 heart tricks, 1 diamond and 1 club trick.

We need not give defenders any club trick. They must win a heart trick. If dummy can ruff one of the diamond tricks lost to defenders through taking 3 leads of trumps, game can be scored. Try the following method of play: win the opening trump lead with the Q of spades. Take another spade trick with declarer's Ace. Lead a low diamond from declarer's hand. It makes no difference in final results whether East plays his Ace or passes the trick. The intent is to give defenders two diamond tricks, whether those are won by East, or whether East's Ace wins one diamond trick and West ruffs another trick in that suit, cannot matter to declarer. His object is to see that dummy ruffs the third diamond trick, which yesterday we saw East win.

Suppose dummy is allowed to win the first lead of diamonds with the J. At once lead dummy's last diamond. Declarer does not in the least care whether West ruffs or East's Ace wins the trick. The defender winning the second lead of diamonds will lead a heart, capturing North's K. East will again lead a heart and declarer will ruff. North then will lead a diamond. Dummy will ruff with the K. The Q of clubs will be led, giving North two club tricks. Then North will lead the 10 of trumps, picking up West's 9, if it already has not been used to ruff the second lead of diamonds. If north picks up West's trump East must win 1 heart trick and 2 diamond tricks. If West ruffs a diamond trick North has to lose in addition 1 heart trick and the diamond trick going to East's Ace.

Automatic Nervous System Regulates Bodies

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

EVERY MACHINE must be constructed so that not only the various parts work, but that they work in unison. Your automobile needs a constant supply of gasoline in the carburetor, but the supply must be neither too little nor too much. Every motorist knows the symptoms of both of these things. Just now our social machinery is in trouble because the function of production is geared ahead of the function of distribution.

Dr. Clendening

So in the human machine, the many functions have to be correlated. Digestion must be efficient, but too much digestion, at least too much absorption of digested products, would be as bad as too little. The kidneys must be prepared to excrete waste products when necessary, and rest when there are no waste products to excrete.

The temperature of the body is maintained at a definite level by an elaborate mechanism which would stump any mechanical engineer to duplicate. If the temperature falls, the combustion inside the body immediately rises; the organs where most combustion occurs, the muscles, begin to move involuntarily—we call it shivering—and the temperature rises. If the temperature of the body threatens to be too high, the little blood vessels of the skin dilate, a film of water in the sweat glands is thrown out over them, and in evaporating, cools off these pipes of the body. It is exactly like cooling off hot pipes or surfaces with a spray of water

Something in Command

Something has to be in command of all these different functions—a regulator or major general, seated somewhere in the center so that a knowledge of what the trouble is will be brought to it and help send out in the form of physiological adjustments. The major general regulator is known as the "automatic nervous system". It consists of a series of masses of nerve ganglia, which are distributed all over the body, the controls of which are massed in the back of the abdomen and chest, along the spinal column. Most of its work is done by an adjustment of the small blood vessels of the body, dilating them in order to increase the amount of blood that goes to and from a part, constricting them to lower the functional capacity of an organ.

A number of tests have been devised to study the efficiency of this unconscious nervous system, and a number of medicines are known which will influence it quite directly. We will study these in the succeeding articles this week.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

President Roosevelt's recent Baltimore speech generally has been taken in Washington throughout the country, as implying that the White House tenant is particularly interested now in the relief of unemployment.

This is accepted as a highly praiseworthy program.

Business is improving. Maybe that does not need to be much further worried about if business continues on the upgrade. But unemployment is nearly as rife as ever. That, then, is the problem to be concentrated on henceforward.

PRESIDENT'S PROPOSALS

The president has quite a clear idea as to what should be done.

In the first place, shorten the working day or the working week or both.

Second, give the worker a guarantee of a fixed annual income; many who are quite well paid while actually employed are the victims of such frequent lapses between jobs that their living allowances are altogether inadequate, annually speaking.

Third, keep youth, below the age, say, of 18, out of the labor market; also pension off superannuated workers, at 65 or thereabouts.

"SHARE-THE-WORK"

[illegible] the day or week or [illegible] the earliest suggestion, made under the Hoover regime, when the depression set in. It was referred to as a share-the-work plan.

Employers were friendly to it, but they wanted to cut pay in proportion to time reduction. That is to say, if an employer had two eight-hour per day workers and thought he could do with one, he was willing to retain both on a four-hour each per day basis, but at one-half of his previous eight-hour per day worker.

Perhaps this would have been some consolation to the worker who, otherwise, was due to go 100 per cent overboard, but 50 per cent less than none to the one who hoped to be retained 100 per cent on the payroll.

In other other words, the notion was to make labor bear the whole expense of the depression.

NO WAGE CUT

President Roosevelt proposes that hours or days shall be cut with no cut in wages.

Which, from the employers' standpoint, must be equivalent to a stiff aggregate wage increase—no more per man, but more men to deliver the old-time volume of production.

What follows?

Why, the employers, to maintain the profits of their respective industries in the face of an increased overhead, boost prices to consumers. Living costs rise; the worker, while getting, in dollars and cents, as much as ever, can buy less with it. In effect, his pay has been cut anyway.

* * *

THREE GROUPS AT ODDS

Or else:

Labor's pay isn't cut. Consumerdom isn't mulcted.

Then the difference must come out of the industry's dividends.

There are three groups at odds.

MANAGEMENT'S PLIGHT

There is a fourth group and a miserable one—management. It has consumerdom to reckon with. Also labor. It can see how they may be reconcilable. But when it turns to capital, which has financed the whole thing upon billions of watered stock, it gets the answer.

"Our dividends upon billions—that never were invested!"

Thus, even intelligent management is handicapped.

NOTHING MUCH TO SAY

As to a fixed annual income, the federal government, of course, has nothing to say.

Nor can it promise regular annual incomes.

The question of youth in the industries still pends on the corresponding amendment to the constitution.

Old age pensions are dependent also on state legislation in part.

Saltcreek-twp Juniors, Seniors Enjoy Banquet

Annual Affair Held at Coffee Shop Friday Night

The Junior class of the Saltcreek-twp school entertained the seniors of the school at their annual banquet Friday evening in the American Hotel Coffee shop

A group of thirty juniors, seniors, and faculty members enjoyed the delightful affair.

Dinner was served at 8 o'clock with the class colors orchid and gold predominant in the appointments. The banquet table was attractive with a centerpiece of low roses and orchid and yellow lighted tapers. Place cards in the schools colors, red and black, were used and a memorandum book was a favor for each guest.

Following the dinner an entertaining program was presented. Durward Minor, president of the junior class, welcomed the seniors and a response was given by Marvin Hartranft, president of the senior class.

The remainder of the program consisted of a talk by George D. McDowell, county superintendent of schools; violin solo, Grace Heffner accompanied by Miss Martha Humm; talk, Marvin H. Miller: scholastic paper, Vivian Justice; toast, Miss Esther Chilcote; musical number, Robert DeLong; toast, H. A. Strous: athletic paper, Eloise Kuhn; Class Will read Woodrow Fortner, and a quartet number of Virginia Poling, Dorothy Poling, Dorothy Lutz, Eldon Fox, and Glenn Dawson.

In the group enjoying the lovely affair were Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Strous, Miss Humm, Miss Chilcote, Durward Minor, Eldon Fox, Bernelle Waliser, Evelyn Fox, Blanche Hill, Thelma Huber, Ruth Hall, Grace Heffner, Vivian Justice, Glenn Dawson, Edward Harris, David Baker, juniors; Marvin Hartranft, Robert DeLong, Virginia Poling, Dorothy Shupe, Dorothy Lutz, Eloise Kuhn, Geneva Morrison, Eugene Parker, Woodrow Fortner, and Alton Brigner.

Social Club Meets

The Women's Social club of the Presbyterian church enjoyed its April meeting Friday evening in the church basement with fifty members and guests in attendance.

During the business transactions the club made plans to entertain the Men's club at its meeting in May. Mrs. Frank Bennett will be chairman of the hostess committee at the affair and Mrs. Harry Heffner will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. E. O. Crites was in charge of the program at last night's session and assisting her were Mrs. E. E. Porter, Mrs. Senet Cryder, and Mrs. H. O. Pile.

Miss Mary Crites sang a solo, "A Little Bit of String," and Mrs. Franklin Crites entertained with two readings, "I Always Get the Worst of It" and "Us Twins."

A playlet, "The Census Taker," was presented by Mrs. Charles Dresbach and Mrs. E. E. Porter, and Mrs. E. O. Crites and Miss Sadie Brunner gave papers on the question, "Is the Married Woman Happier than the Unmarried Woman."

At the close of the entertainment refreshments were served by the hostess committee including Mrs. B. T. Hedges, chairman, Mrs. John Bennett, Mrs. Joseph Bell, Mrs. William Foresman, Mrs. O. D. Mader, Mrs. Harry Heffner, Mrs. Walter Kindler, Mrs. J. G. Wilder, Mrs. Harp Van Riper, Mrs. John Baucher, Miss Charlotte Caldwell, and Miss Bertha Bowers.

Combinations of Fabrics In New Suits Intriguing

LINEN AND TWEED ARE UNITED

Courtesy Stein & Blaine

Sand-colored tweed suit combined with natural linen.

By LISBETH

NOT ONLY are the stylings of the new spring-suits smart and interesting, but the combinations of fabrics are intriguing.

Tweeds, of course, are tops this year as they are, in fact, every spring and fall. With a tweed suit one feels well dressed and without a care in the world.

The combination of linen and tweed is something else again, however. Sand-colored tweed is so combined with natural linen in this Stein & Blaine suit. The skirt buttons onto the linen blouse in a novel fashion, and at a lowered waistline. The button process is repeated at the unique neckline, and the blouse is belted with the tweed.

Jacket Sleeves Short

The finger-length jacket has dolman-like sleeves, which are short enough to show part of the sleeve of the blouse.

To accompany this suit the model wears a sand-colored felt hat with a darker ribbon trim.

Another interesting combination is the suit with striped skirt worn with solid color—preferably black or monotone—jacket bound with braid like a man's formal morning coat.

Younger women are favoring redingote coats that button down the front. Navy and black are preferred.

In man-tailored summer tailleurs a hairy, firm, thin tweed, is shown. It is 100 per cent worsted, but so light and thin that a whole suit weighs but a few ounces. Checked top and plain skirt is a favorite combination in these suits.

This suit, as most this year, has a flower in the buttonhole. Lily Dache, the milliner, is said to be responsible for the present vogue for flowers. She and another stylist were concerned about the little flower makers who had no employment. They decided to do something about it, and kept asking for things with flowers.

Now the vogue for flowers is well established, and not only for hats and corsages, but flower colors are used for gloves—matching the corsage or boutonniere.

Marian Martin Pattern

MARIAN MARTIN FROCK YOU'LL FIND FUN TO MAKE—PRETTY TO WEAR

PATTERN 9772

Here's a bit of important simplicity for the days you'll spend "on the go" or at home. Isn't it a little beauty, and see how easily its clever but simple lines speed the making? There's a flattering bodice with sun-ray darts, a slimming waist-and-skirt panel that's just no trick at all to produce, and youthful raglan sleeves which seem cut out for some strenuous outdoor sport. Made now, you can slip on this very minute, and enjoy it before Summer arrives. For warm days, there's nothing so nice as tub cottons, printed or plain ones, or a tub silk or sythetic. For an informal afternoon frock, make it up in printed crepe, voile or eyelet batiste. It's sure to prove a winner! Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included

Pattern 9772 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards 36 inch fabric.

Be sure to send for OUR NEW PATTERN BOOK and see how easily your Spring wardrobe can reflect the latest fashions! Dozens of smart models for every occasion—some sketched, some photographed. Lovely new fabrics and how to make best use of them slendering styles. Clothes budget hints. Patterns for the whole family. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND A PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Send your order to The Herald, Pattern Department, 210 N. Court-st, Circleville, Ohio.

Everyone Will Admire This Quilt

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Easy Block In Three Materials

Prairie Flower

PATTERN 5335

"Carry me back to the Lone Prair-ee!" if prairie flowers are as lovely as these, and as easy to acquire. You'll find this a patchwork quilt that everyone will admire, and one for which blocks are both easily and quickly pieced. You'll need but three materials for this, light, medium and dark, for effective contrast.

In pattern 5335 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration, for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Herald Household Arts Dept., 210 N. Court-st., Circleville, O. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

When these patterns are ordered through The Herald they are subject to one cent sales tax. When ordered direct from the distributor no sales tax is collected.

CABBAGE ROLLS

Six large cabbage leaves
One and one-half cups water
Two cups Honey Boy bread crumbs
One-half pound chopped round steak
One onion, minced
One teaspoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
One tablespoon butter
One-half green pepper, minced
One-eighth teaspoon paprika
One small can tomatoes

Parboil cabbage leaves in salt water. Moisten crumbs with water. Combine with meat, half the minced onion, salt and pepper. Form meat mixture into six small rolls, wrap each in a cabbage leaf. Melt butter in deep frying pan, add cabbage rolls, rest of minced onion, green pepper, paprika and tomatoes. Cook slowly over low fire from 30 to 40 minutes. If necessary add water.

This butterscotch pie recipe is purported to be the favorite of Harriet Hilliard, young radio singer and picture player. I would suggest that before mixing the flour with the sugar, the sugar be browned or caramelized.

German Kuchen.—One-half cup sugar, one-half cup lard, one-half cup flour, one-half cup mashed potatoes, one cup potato water, one-half cake yeast in one-fourth cup lukewarm water, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, three or four cups flour. Mix all ingredients, using enough flour to make a dough that can be mixed with a spoon. Let rise. When light, put into two pans deep enough so that the dough comes half way up the sides of the pan and let rise again, but not to the top of pans. Spread with melted butter. Sprinkle with half a cup brown sugar and half a teaspoon cinnamon moistened with milk. Bake about 30 minutes in moderate oven. Makes two kuchens.

Butterscotch Pie.—Two cups brown sugar, four tablespoons flour, two cups cold water, two tablespoons butter, four eggs. Mix sugar and flour, add beaten yolks, and then water, then butter and one teaspoon vanilla flavoring. Cook in double boiler until thick. Bake a good crust in a deep pie tin. When done, pour in mixture. Beat up whites of eggs and add four level tablespoons of sugar; put on pie and bake until a light brown in a slow oven.

A variation of this is to put sliced bananas into the mixture when it is put in the pie crust and just before the meringue is brown.

Whole Striped Bass, Norweigian—One striped bass of six pounds, 12 medium tomatoes (skinned), two cucumbers (skinned), cut in small squares), one cucumber (skinned and sliced), one tablespoon chopped herbs, sweet pepper, six leaves of gelatin, two carrots, two onions, one cup vinegar, two egg whites, eight ounces salt. In a special fish pan, large enough for fish, cover with sufficient water, add sliced carrots and onions, eight ounces of salt and the vinegar. Put to boil—moderate the boiling, allowing to cook for 15 minutes. Let cool in stock for 10 hours. Remove the fish. ## Find Flyer, Bride

MISSING for more than a week on their honeymoon flight in Alaska, Pilot Albert Almoslino of Seattle, Wash., and his bride, the former Joan McDonald, shown above, were found alive on the shore of the Behm canal by a coast guard cutter. The Almoslinos' plane had crashed on the shore of Princess bay. Aside from weakened condition through exposure, the honeymooners were none the worse for plight.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Label Boxes ....

We like to label things at our house," writes a young woman. "One methodical member of our family has piled up fruit crates in the attick, in the manner of sectional bookcases. These shelves are used for labeled packages and boxes of seldom-used articles. We rarely say 'I cant' find it' now, nor do we open box after box before finding a wanted article.

Use Brush ....

A brush with fairly stiff bristles is valuable when washing badly soiled collar bands, mud-splashed hems or other stains on white clothes. Lay the cloth smoothly on the washboard, wet the brush, run it across a bar of soap, then scrub the garment with strokes of the brush.

Procedure Explained from Few Minutes Before Hour for Airing to Start; Bing Crosby Expects Thrill

AN INCREASING number of radio fans each week get a new thrill by seeing as well as hearing the more popular programs as they are flashed into millions of American homes.

However, a majority of listeners never have the opportunity to see what a "big" broadcast is like and to enjoy the interesting preliminaries which precede the airing of a major "hour."

So, come along and we'll drop in and watch one of them. Which one shall it be? Eddie Cantor? Major Bowes? Phil Baker? Rudy Vallee? Fred Allen? Beatrice Lillie? Burns and Allen? Let's make it Jack Benny, this time—O. K.?

Later: 11, Henry Busse, WENR; 11:30, Ted Lewis, NBC; 12, Xavier Cugat, CBS.

WE ARRIVE at the studio at least a half hour before Benny and his bunch go on the air, because space is limited and there are no reserved seats.

About 20 minutes before the broadcast's zero hour, members of the cast, each clutching a copy of the script, stroll in. Five minutes later, Don Wilson, the announcer, in a short speech, thanks the studio audience for the interest in the Benny programs and then introduces the cast — Mary Livingstone, Kenny Baker, the singer; Johnny Green, orchestra leader; "Hello Stranjuh" Schlepperman and last but by no means least, Benny himself.

Benny wise cracks and kids with the audience as he puffs away at his seemingly perpetual cigar. The men in the audience look in admiration mixed with envy for for them the "No Smoking" studio signs mean just that.

WILSON BRIEFLY explains to the audience the necessity of NOT applauding until he gives the signal.

Benny and Miss Livingstone take their stations at a microphone to the left of the orchestra. Wilson is at another to the right. Near him are seated Baker, Schlepperman and any others of the company who are to participate in the broadcast.

Green, the maestro, faces his orchestra, baton raised, eyes on the studio engineer. The engineer gives a silent signal Green's baton drops. The studio is flooded with the sound of the program's opening signature.

The Jack Benny program— and you—are on the air?

NOTES: Bing Crosby claims it will be the thrill of his life when he sings, April 30, over a network with the Philadelphia orchestra, directed by Dr. Leopold Stokowski. . . . Ed Wynn's "Gulliver" program switches networks May 12. . . . The amateur hour craze has hit England. . . . The British Broadcasting company has lifted its ban on programs provided by dramatic and singing societies, making amateur hours possible. . . . Smith Ballew, the singing master-of-ceremonies, organized his first orchestra when he was 17 years old. . . . Raymond Moley, magazine editor and former assistant secretary of state, will talk on "Common Sense—1936 Model" over an NBC-WJZ network, April 24. . . . The same day you "Beautiful Lady in Blue" fans may hear your favorite song by none other than Marvin Talley also over a network.

Una Merkel to Sing

Una Merkel, the film comedienne who is usually cast in the role of a perplexed American working girl, will sing her first radio song as Bing Crosby's guest on the Music Hall program Thursday, April 23. Other guest stars on this broadcast over a WEAF-NBC network at 10:00 p. m. (EST) will be Fred Keating, comedian and magician, and Grete Stueckgold, well-known opera singer.

The blonde actress will be interviewed by Crosby and then she will sing "Pardon My Southern Accent." Miss Merkel recently has appeared in such screen successes as "Biography of a Bachelor Girl," and "Broadway Melody of 1936."

Fred Keating will also be interviewed by Crosby and is expected to disclose several of the secrets behind the tricks with which he astonishes audiences.

The post-marked applause the mail man delivered to Madam Stueckgold, formerly of New York's Metropolitan Opera Company, after her recent appearance on the Kraft Music Hall broadcast, has resulted in a return engagement of the opera singer. English-born, she studied in Germany, and made her debut there at the age of 18. Later she was selected as a member of the Berlin Stadtische Opera, where she appeared several years before coming to America.

NOTES—Kate Smith and Stoopnagle and Budd celebrate their radio anniversaries simultaneously . . . They've been on the air five years . . . That "Champions" series switches from CBS to NBC network April 24 . . . One of the leading radio studio fans at these network comedians' broadcasts is none other than Ken Murray . . . Murray, a noted comic and m. c., himself, has "caught" all the top comics' shows. . . . Jimmy Fidler program is scheduled to exit from the air on April 21 . . . Marla Forbes, who won Boston auditions of the Paul Whiteman national talent hunt is listed as a society girl. Dad's a Harvard prof . . . If Bob Ripley joins a fit subject one of his own cartoons or organizations he may be a fit for "Believe-It-Or-Not" broadcasts . . . Ripley is a member of the Royal Geographical society, the Circumnavigators', Friars', Lotus, New York Athletic and a number of other clubs . . . Ben Bernie lays claim to being the most traveled air maestro of them all. . . . Ben and his orchestra think nothing of coast-to-coast hops with perhaps no more than a couple of stop and play spots in between.

TIGER HARRIERS WIN FROM FOUR RURAL SCHOOLS

Second and Third Places Add to Local Points; Only Three Firsts Won

Circleville high school's track team had too many guns for three county teams Friday afternoon and won a quadrangular meet from Pickaway, Washington and Jackson-twps.

The scores were: Circleville 52, Pickaway 18, Jackson and Washington each 17.

One dissatisfying fact arose despite the Red and Black victory. Only three first places, plus the relay, were won by Jack Landrum's boys, most of the Tiger points being piled up in seconds and thirds. John Jenkins, sterling middle--distance runner, did not take part thus eliminating some of the local thunder.

Griffith Wins Two

John Griffith had no trouble knocking off the first spot in his pet events, the 120 and 220-yard low hurdles. He coasted in both of them. Red Lindsey, football tackle prospect, won a first in the discus with a heave of 101 feet, and took second in the shot put.

Other firsts were won by Warner of Pickaway in the half mile, Reichelderfer of Washington in the 100 and 220-yard sprints, Warner of Pickaway in the 440, Florence of Jackson in the high jump, Keller of Jackson in the broad jump, Black of Jackson in the pole vault, and Riffle of Pickaway in the shot put.

Johnny Heiskell and Fred Grant were the officials:

The summary:

100-YARD DASH: won by Reichelderfer (W), 11 seconds; Melson (C), second; Thompson (J) third.

220-YARD DASH: won by Reichelderfer (W), 26.1 seconds; Griffith (C) second; Owens (C) third.

440-yard dash: won by Warner (P), 60.1 seconds; K. Smith (C) seconds; Matz (W) third.

RELAY: won by Circleville (Owens, Weller, Friley, K. Smith).

120-YARD LOW HURDLES: won by Griffith (C), 15 seconds; J. E. Brown (C) second; Elliott (W) third.

220-YARD LOW HURDLES: won by Griffith (C), 30 seconds; Elliott (W) second; Brown (C) third.

HALF MILE: won by Warner (P), 2.25 minutes; K. Smith (C) second; Hanley (W) third.

HIGH JUMP: won by Florence (J), 5 feet 5 inches; Melson (C) second; Black (J) third.

BROAD JUMP: won by Keller (J), 17.5½ feet; Owens (C) second; Elliott (W) third.

POLE VAULT: won by Black (J), 9 feet, 3 inches; Friley (C) second; Dunkle (P) third.

SHOT PUT: won by Riffle (P), 34 feet, 2 inches; Lindsey (C) second; Rhoades (P) third.

DISCUS: won by Lindsey (C), 101 feet; Brown (C) second; Riffle (P) third.

AZUCAR, DARK WINTER IN BAY MEADOWS RACE

SAN MATEO, Cal., April 18.—(UP)—Bay Meadows track presented the first major handicap event of its spring meeting today with two stars of Fred M. Alger, Jr.'s stable favored to parade to the winner's circle.

Azucar, eight-year-old converted steeplechaser, and dark Winter, sensational in one race and dud in the next, were quoted even money bets to win the event. The $5,000 added Fashion stakes. Azucar was expected to be a slight post-time favorite.

Seven other horses complete the field. They are Arson, Jovius, Bahamas, Coldwater, Mickeys Man, Velociter and Nubs, the latter two coupled as a G. A. Marshall entry.

OBSERVERS who hitch their wagon to a star of possible victory for Max Schmeling over Joe Louis point out that the Brunet Bomber was hit with a right hand by Paulino Uzcudun . . . the argument is that if the slow Uzcudun could nail Louis with a right, the faster Schmeling, who is a great counter puncher by the way, ought to paralyze him.

No sooner had Ford Frick, president of the National league, broadcast an edict against fraternizing among ball players than Dick Bartell, shortstop of the Giants, wound up and let fly his best Sunday punch at Van Lingle Mungo for "dusting him off" with an inside pitch . . . inasmuch as a fine of $10 is the penalty for shaking hands, it seems the rule ought to work both ways . . . Mister Bartell should receive a $10 bonus for his non-fraternal efforts.

KANSAS CITY TAKES LEAD OVER AA FOES

By UNITED PRESS—6 pt

The Kansas City Blues topped the American association today with three victories and no defeats. The Minneapolis Millers also have not lost a game but they have played only two.

The Blues stepped to the head of the standings yesterday by coming from behind to defeat Louisville in ten innings, 9 to 6. St. Paul defeated Toledo 7 to 2 in the only other game played yesterday.

Cold weather forced postponement of the Minneapolis-Columbus, Milwaukee-Indianapolis games.

STRONG ENTRIES IN OHIO RELAYS

Mansfield Scene of Tenth Spring Competition

MANSFIELD, April 18.—(UP)—Outstanding Ohio scholastic teams augmented by a sprinkling of out-of-state representatives, gathered here today for the tenth renewal of the Mansfield Relays.

Seventy-five schools, with approximately 1,000 competitors, were on hand when the opening preliminary events were run.

All schools in the relays compete on an equal bais. There is no division for Class A and B schools.

Toledo Scott, twice winner of the event and the state scholastic track titlist in 1924 and 1935, was the pre-meet favorite. Scott had 31 athletes entered.

Other high ranked Ohio schools were: Sandusky, Cleveland East Tech, Cleveland Collinwood, Fremont, Canton McKinley, Toledo DeVilbiss and North, Garfield and South of Akron.

The out-of-state representatives were headed by East High of Erie, Pa.

One of the features will be a special sprint race for women. Stella Walsh, Cleveland, world's record holder, will be one of the competitors.

The Relays here are the first of a series of outdoor carnivals for schoolboy athletes before the state meet at Columbus May 29-30.

Words of 'Jawn' McGraw Spur Giants Toward Title

Game in April Mean As Much As in September; Terry Using Smart System With Pitchers

NEW YORK, April 18—(UP)—The late John McGraw used to say; "Boys, they count as much in April as they do in September."

And the New York Giants of 1936, taking a tip from their old master, have started with a bang.

With the major league campaign only four days old, the Giants have yet to suffer defeat. This is only one game short of the pace they set in 1934 when they won the first five games. And it's far better than a year ago when, with the race four days old, They floundered in the cellar with no victories and two defeats.

Behind the early Giant success is keen strategy of working pitchers on the part of Manager Bill Terry. In taking those four games—three from Brooklyn and one from Boston—Terry managed to place most of the pitching burden on new members of the corps, and giving the stars—Carl Hubbell, Clyde Castleman, Fred Fitzsimmons and Hal Schumacher — as much as rest as possible. All four will be called for heavy duty during the later portion of the campaign and Terry figures they will be ready for extra work if they are not overburdened at the start.

Only one of the New York victories have been turned in by veteran pitchers. On opening day, Dick Coffman, American League castoff, relieved Schumacher and scored a victory. The next day Rookie Harry Gumbert pitched a four-hitter. Thursday, Coffman again played a relief role and won.

Yesterday Fitzsimmons, who is being worked easily for fear of aggravating the elbow which he injured last year, relieved Carl Hubbell in the sixth inning against the Bees. The Giants trailed 3-2 and Hubbell was yanked for a pinch hitter. Terry took over that spot and, with the bases full, hit a double that scored three runs—enough to put the game on ice. The Giants scored another in the seventh to win, 6-4.

Madison Newspaper Says Princeton Coach Hired

MADISON, Wis., April 18.—(UP)—University of Wisconsin athletic officials today declined comment on a published report that H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, Princeton football coach, had been chosen to succeed Dr. Walter E. Meanwell, ousted athletic director.

The report was published by the Madison Capital Times.

Athletic board members are scheduled to receive regents' recommendation for a director next week.

Prominently mentioned with Crisler are Assistant Football Coach Guy Sundt, Clark Shaughnessy, University of Chicago; Harry Stuhldreher, Villa Nova; Harold Olsen, Ohio State, and Dana X. Bibie, Nebraska.

Individually among the most popular stars of the film world; collectively the greatest star triumvirate of them all, Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Myrna Loy will be seen together for the first time in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new giant production, "Wife Versus Secretary," filmization of the widely-read Faith Baldwin novel.

The new picture which comes to the Cliftona theatre starting Sunday was directed by Clarence Brown whose recent triumps were ""Ah Wilderness!" and "Anna Karenina." It was produced by Hunt Stromberg, responsible for such hits as "Rose Marie," "Forsaking All Others" and "Naughty Marietta." Norman Krasna, John Lee Mahin and Alice Duer Miller collaborated on the screen adaptation.

Supporting the remarkable of stars is a prominent cast including such screen headliners as May Robson, George Barbier, James Stewart, Hobart Cavanaugh and also Gilbert Emery, Margaret Irving, Billy Newell, Majoric Gateson, Gloria Holden and Tom Dugan.

The story presenting a society "enternal triangle" from a new viewpoint, casts Gable as Van Sanford, the successful business man very much in love with his wife, Linda, played by Miss Loy, Jean Harlow as Whitey, the secretary, is the "other woman" who brings about an emotional crisis in the life of her employer.

FLOOD CONTROL CONGRESS PREPARES PLANE FLIGHT

[illegible] OF REGION OPENS APRIL 22; CAPITAL ROUTED

Dr. Holzer and Jordan Head Delegation; Officials to Be Hosts

Uncontrollable water will be emphasized from the air this week when the Ohio Valley Conservation and Flood Control Congress "aircade" of eleven planes flies from Cincinnati, April 22, and drops down in Washington, April [illegible]. The flight will mark the inauguration of "First Annual Flood Control Week" which governors of Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia have been called on to aid in observance, by official proclamations.

Planes will gather at the Lunken Airport, Cincinnati, Tuesday evening, when a sendoff meeting by the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce is held at the Sinton Hotel at 8 o'clock. The takeoff will be accomplished Wednesday at 9 a. m., with addresses by civic officials.

From Cincinnati the planes will go to Portsmouth, arriving at 9:30 a. m., and departing at 10:15 a. m. The welcoming delegation will be headed by Mayor Joe Countz, and City Manager F. E. Sheehan. City officials of Maysville, Ky., will join in making this stop of the aircade a joint meeting.

Huntington Next

The second stop of the first day's flight will be made at Huntington at 11 a. m., where a buffet luncheon will be served at the airport for the air visitors. Delegations from Catlettsburg, Ashland, Kenova, Ironton and Russell are expected.

The planes will journey to Gallipolis, landing at 2 p. m., where officials will be joined by mayors and others from Point Pleasant, Pomeroy and Middleport urging flood control.

Athens is the next day's stop on the jaunt with the aircade being greeted at 3 p. m., and taking to the air again at 3:30 p. m., going on to Columbus, arriving at 4 p. m. to complete the first day's tour.

In Columbus the Chamber of Commerce is tendering a banquet to the flying flood control enthusiasts which will be marked by an address by Martin L. Davey, governor of Ohio.

The "aircade" will go to Zanesville at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday where the tour will be received by officials of the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy district.

At Parkersburg, the next landing, the planes arrive at 11 a. m., escorted by local planes. A luncheon will be tendered the flood control congress at the Chancellor Hotel, from where the addresses will be broadcast over WPAR. The air fleet leaves Parkersburg at 2 p. m. Committees will assist from Marietta, St. Marys, Sistersville and Ravenswood.

When the planes arrive at Wheeling at 2:30 p. m., they will be met by the mayor. After an hour's discussion of flood control problems, the air-minded water experts will proceed to Pittsburgh, leaving Wheeling at 3:30 p. m. and landing in Pittsburgh at 4 p. m.

At Pittsburgh the flying water control congress will join with the Tri-State Authority in a program designed to speed legislation permitting the construction of 14 reservoirs in that district which will take about eight feet from the flood crest. Senator W. B. Rodgers will preside at the banquet which will be held at the William Penn hotel at 6 p. m.

Then to aWshington

From Pittsburgh the Ohio congress flies on to Washington where an audience is planned with the National Rivers and Harbors Congress on Friday and Saturday and with the United States Chamber of Commerce on Monday. After these two meetings, Dr. Charles E. Holzer, Gallipolis, president, and Alan N. Jordan, executive secretary, Columbus, and others will present Congress with evidence of [illegible] lost and property damage gathered on the trip.

The flood control congress is advocating construction of 39 reservoirs or their equivalent in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and West Virginia according to plans developed by army engineers. The following army engineers have been extended invitations to be guests of the congress on the trip: Col. Roger M. Powell, Ohio [illegible] district; Col. C. L. Hall, Cincinnati district: Maj. J. F. Conklin, [illegible] district; Maj. W. D. [illegible], Pittsburgh district, and [illegible] J. D. Arthur, Chief Engineer, [illegible] conservancy district.

G-MEN CAPTURE THREE IN HAMM ABDUCTION CASE

terday, the following were involved in the abduction:

Arthur (Doc) Barker, now in Alcatraz prison.

Elmer Farmer, now in Leavenworth penitentiary.

Bryan Bolton, now in jail in St. Paul.

Fred C. Goetz, known as "Shotgun Ziegler," now dead.

Fred Barker, brother of Arthur, now dead.

Alvin Karpis, Public Enemy No. 1, at large.

The Hamm kidnaping case was one of the most sensational in a series of abductions dating from the Lindbergh crime and drawing the federal agents into a nation-wide drive to stamp out the racket.

Karpis once escaped the agents by a hair's-breath when he shot his way out of an Atlantic City hotel.

Later, agents arrested "Doc" Barker and held him in Chicago and later closed in on Fred Barker in Florida.

In a machine gun battle with the outlaws who were hiding out in an isolated house, Fred Barker and his mother, known to gangsters as "Ma" Barker, were killed. The agents said they found a smoking machinegun in the dead woman's hands when they finally rushed the house.

Solution of the Hamm kidnaping now leaves Karpis and Theodore H. Robinson, Jr., kidnaper of Mrs. Alice Stoll, as the two kidnaping fugitives still at large. Karpis is wanted in connection with the Bremer kidnaping case as wel as thle Hamm abduction.

EVELAND ORDERS TWO "BUMS" TO LEAVE TOWN

Fines of $25 assessed Louis Shelby, 28, negro, of Terre Haute, Ind., and Edgar Sinnett, 20, Slater, Mo., for trespassing on railroad property, were suspended Friday by Squire H. O. Eveland. They were released from the county jail.

They were arrested Wednesday evening at the request of an N. & W. railroad detective. The men "bummed" a ride on a passenger train at Chillicothe.

MOTHER OF COUNTIANS IS DEAD IN JAMESTOWN

Funeral services for Mrs. Stella Patterson, 79, Jamestown, mother of Mrs. Bert Drake and Lewis Patterson of Williamsport, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in Frankfort. Burial will be in the Frankfort Greenlawn cemetery.

RABBIT KNOWS HOW

SEATTLE, April 18—(UP)—Elmer, 11-year-old Effie Fraser's pet white rabbit, escaped from his pen and fell down a hotel air shaft. He wasn't hurt, but was imprisoned in a space too small to permit his rescue.

Effie put a head of lettuce in a paper shopping bag, tied a string on the bag and lowered it into the shaft. When Elmer entered to eat the lettuce, Effie hauled him to safety.

Old Stone Sewer Gives Way For WPA Project

in the brows of many street commissioners and service directors. It would need occasional cleanings. Officials always employed "short fellows" for the work. The debris was scraped up and removed in a small wagon. Stone slabs covering the sewer were removed at various points along the line to remove the trash.

Frank Baker, member of council and a former service director, had two unusual experiences with the old sewer. On one occasions he started to investigate its condition, met a large snake and postponed his "expedition" until another date. Later he received a call from an eastend resident that a horse was in the sewer. He went to the barn of Henry Fausnaugh, Mingo-st, and found the stone covering had broken and the horse was in the cavity.

The old sewer travels under barns, homes, streets and through many eastend yards. City officials down through the years have been called many times to repair breaks in the sewer covering. Frequently residents would start digging in their yards or cellars and strike the stone slabs.

Even Before Clarke

Present officials were unable to report the year in which the sewer was constructed or where the stone was obtained. Dr. H. R. Clarke reports he caught many strings of sunfish in Lake Darling but is unable to remember when the sewer was installed.

As a youth he hunted muskrat along the open ditch that extends from the sewer through the lands near the Mount of Praise. A sewer draining the district now connects with the old box sewer on Mound-st at the rear of the Franklin-st school building. This sewer is fed by spring water.

Under the WPA program a large sewer will be installed in Mingo-st connecting with laterals from the other eastend districts. This sewer will connect with one at Main and Mingo-sts that empties into Hargus creek at the Lancaster-pk bridge.

SCIOTO-TWP SCHOOL NEWS

Grade 1

Thirty guests attended the Easter party which was held in the First Grade room, Friday at 3:00 p. m. Following the program ice cream, cake and candy was served.

The first grade pupils were pleasantly surprised, upon their return from music Friday, to find a large nest full of brightly colored eggs which the second grade has given them. The Second grade pupils had colored them themselves and they were very pretty. On the blackboard they wrote—"Easter Greeting from the Second Grade."

Grade 8

We have been reviewing English, Geography and History.

Our Arithmetic class is studying the language of Algebra, and have to find the equation.

Third Grade

Pupils on the Honor Roll for the six weeks were: Bonnie Davie, Mary Ellen Hines, and Jackie Melvin.

The boys and girls enjoyed coloring eggs for Easter last Friday. Mrs. James Martin was a visitor during the afternoon.

The health charts have been completed. Geneva Hockley, Virginia Hockley, and Gilbert McComb had the neatest charts.

Sixth Grade

The sixth grade has just one more story in their Elson Reader—The Wandering of Ulysses is the story. It is rather long and we will not be able to start it before next Monday. At present we are reviewing the story of Achilles.

The boys and girls are very enthusastic about our past few lesson in Arithmetic. We have been drawing bar and line graphs.

Betty Mooney from Columbus visited our grade Monday afternoon.

A great variety of originality is being shown with our April calendars. These are marked daily.

Helen Hinton, Ruth Brown and Delores Beavers were amateurs Friday nite on the Major Bowes' Amateur Hour which was sponsored by the Methodist Church.

Grade Two

The second grade children brought eggs to school last Thursday to color for Easter. On Friday we surprise the first grade with a big nest of colored eggs.

We were glad to have so many mothers come to our Spring program Friday afternoon.

The fourth grade made our Easter baskets for us this year. We though they were very pretty.

Alma Cassin transferred from Jackson-co, W. V., to our class.

Freshman

The Freshmen class has lost one of its best students, Anna Louise Bandy, who moved to Gahanna and who will attend the school there. We were very sorry to have her leave.

The Home Economics class have been learning to tint and dye and also have been preparing luncheons in the past week.

The Latin I class have new captains for the vocabulary contest. They are: Maxine Timmons, Romans and Eileen Nichols, Gauls. Miss Glick has now chosen Grace Hill and Opalbelle Beavers to take the Elimination Latin I test at Ashville.

The Freshman Honor Roll for the fifth six weeks is: Grace Hill, Opalbelle Beavers, and Eileen Nichols.

Grade 10

The honor roll for this six weeks consists of: Dorothy Beavers, Junior Borror, Mary Fuller, Rosemary Hennick, Marjory Younkin, Thelma Norris, Audrey Johnson, Earl Wilson and Harold Wilson.

Rosemary Hennick and Marjory Younkin were chosen from the Sophomore English Class to go to the Elimination tests at Ashville April 18.

Grade 11

A sextet of girls were chosen to represent Scioto at the County Oratorical Contest to be given this Thursday evening: They are Twila Sprouse, Velma Burgett, Sara Lee Prindle, Clara [illegible]ilkill, Faye McKnight, and Marjory Younkin. Their chosen number is "Bonnie Doon." Of this group four are Juniors.

Raymond Hott will sing a solo—"Who is Slyvia," at the Oratorical Contest.

Several members of our class were represented in the Major Bowes Amateur program last Friday evening. This program was sponsored by the M. E. Sunday School of Commercial Point.

The honor roll of this six weeks are Sara Lee Prindle, Faye McKnight and Laura Nichols.

Grade 12

Those on the honor roll for the fifth six weeks are: Velma Burgett, Richard Devors, Homer Nichols and Marguerite Martin.

Jean Tomlinson was chosen from our class to represent Scioto in the county Oratorical Contest to be held at Pickaway-twp Thursday night.

The Senior double quartet, composed of Velma Burgett, Elsie Shirkey, Jean Tomlinson, Louise Melvin, Carl Younkin, Richard Devors, Jack Dennis and Alfred Finch sang at the Amateur program, Friday night. They also will sing at the Commencement, May 13.

In "Who's Who"

TODAY'S selection for the "Who's Who" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Grant, 633 N. Court-st. It is not often that a fifth year man in high school makes good in a big way; but Fred Grant has done it. It cannot be said that he is a scholastic star; but it can be emphatically said that throughout this year he has made himself useful to the pupils and teachers at C. H. S., and he has been very cheerful about it.

In his possession is a much envied collection of athletic awards including two "C's" in football, two in basketball, one in baseball and one in track. Grant was football manager, coach of the eighth grade basketball team, and an official in the intramural basketball games. Fred holds offices of Stooge president, and treasurer of both the Hi-Y and the Student Social Council. His other achievements include cheerleader, Rotary speaker, Red and Black staff, and participation in several school productions.
